How about HAPPY FEET?

TECHSOX

Step Into Comfort Technology

Not only do adventure racers compete in many different weather conditions but their feet go through more abuse than any other athletes... Tech Sox Xtreme Sports can help

- When the foot stays dry, fresh and ventilated—they stay warmer in the cool weather and cooler in the warm weather.
- Between the arch support, padding and dryness, people realize a significant reduction of foot fatigue.

What the racers are saying....

"Generally it's not a good idea to try anything new on race day... I put the Tech Sox on... about a half hour into the leg I really started to notice that I felt no soreness in my toes and that my feet felt comfortable and relatively dry. I was quite pleased. I kept the socks on and we started our next mountain bike leg, I was really working and yet pretty amazed that my toes weren't going numb. I kept the Tech Sox on for the remainder of the race. Though the rest of my body was aching, my feet were feeling relatively good at the finish. You have a great product." R. Mason—Davie, FL

I have been wearing my Tech Sox since June for both training and racing. They have seen water, sand, mud, gravel, thorns, burrs etc. over countless kilometers and have performed really well. I have found them to be very comfortable - not too tight and with a nice amount of cushioning. They've stood up extremely well to repeated washing and drying. I'm a big fan. A Kellest—Toronto, ON

"Before I was a bit of a skeptic but now I'm a believer. I've been orienteering, hiking, and mountain biking in them and they have managed to keep my feet happy, which in turn keeps the rest of me happy and focused on the business at hand." Brian Goble—Team Enduradventure

I have tried lots of different socks in competing in AR for about 7 years, and I was nonetheless very impressed with your product. They fit well, dry quickly and have been comfortable in a variety of conditions, wet or dry, from hills, to desert to the subtropics where I live. Will Murphy—FL

"the socks are incredible! We have raced in them and couldn't imagine racing in any other socks!" Asher Lohman—Team JAX
